Herter Flies To Paris for Strategy Talks

Plans to Ask Allied Leaders to Increase NATO Contributions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter took off today for Western strategy talks in Paris. He declared there is need for further improvement of the defensive strength of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Traveling in a Military Air Transport jet liner, Herter, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. left from Andrews Air Force Base. Accompanied by Top Aides

They were accompanied by a party of top aides and policy advisers, including Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state for European affairs, and Charles E. Bohlen, Herter's new special adviser on Soviet relations.

Herter, Anderson and Gates will represent the United States in a Cabinet-level meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council in Paris beginning next Tuesday. Herter is expected to make a drive for greater contributions by the main European allies, particularly West Germany and France, to the military strength of NATO and Europe.

He has indicated he also will ask European leaders to study ways of relieving the United States of some of the financial burden it now bears in connection with the maintenance of its own forces in Western Europe.

Will Meet Eisenhower

In his departure statement, Herter noted that on Dec. 18 he will go to Toulon, a French Mediterranean port, to meet President Eisenhower and return with him to Paris for a Western heads of government meeting. The conference will begin next Saturday and continue through the following Monday.

"While there appears to have been some easing of the atmosphere of crisis recently," Herter said, "the Soviet Union's willingness to take concrete action toward equitable settlements of major international problems remains to be demonstrated. Certainly nothing has happened to date to justify lowering our guard."

"The maintenance and further improvement of the defensive strength of the NATO alliance continues to be of the greatest importance."

U. N. Expected To Approve Space Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pressing toward adjournment, the U.N. is expected to give unanimous approval today to a Soviet-American plan to give the world body a voice in regulating peaceful uses of outer space.

A parade of nations from both sides of the Iron Curtain hailed East-West agreement on the controversial space issue in a lengthy night session.

The 82-nation Political Committee was slated to act next in a morning session.

The General Assembly then must ratify the plan before it winds up its business for the year — probably late tonight.

Both the United States and Soviet Union urged unanimous approval of the proposal, which they worked out after three weeks of closed-door haggling.

Negotiations between U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov were kept under a lid of secrecy until the agreement actually was reached. After several concessions by the West, the two agreed on a committee composed of 12 Western 7 Communist and 5 neutral nations, to serve a two-year term.

The resolution also calls for an international conference of space experts to be held under U.N. auspices in 1960 or 1961. The conference was proposed by the Soviets at the outset of this Assembly session.

Springfield Fugitive Meets Violent Death

CARRIZOZO, N. M. (AP) — Richard J. Rust, 27, a veteran of 13 years in jails and prisons, fled on Dec. 6 rather than face charges of burglary and larceny by trick in Springfield, Ohio.

He was still running Wednesday when he met a violent death.

Here is the story as pieced together from police accounts:

Rust escaped from the Municipal Court Building in Springfield minutes before he was to appear for a preliminary hearing on the burglary and larceny charges. He managed the escape by asking to go to the rest room, kicking out a bar from a second floor window and crawling onto a fire escape.

Wednesday, more than half a continent from Springfield, he broke into a state policeman's car at Santa Rosa, N. M., taking a police jacket and radio transmitter.

He stole another car nearby, and headed southwest for Carrizozo, 120 miles from Santa Rosa. On the way he came upon Richard Fisher of Wichita, Kan., sleeping in his car.

Donning the state police jacket, he awakened Fisher and asked for his identification. Fisher handed over his billfold, which Rust returned with the comment that everything was in order.

But when Fisher started to pay for gasoline at Carrizozo, he discovered that $35 was missing.

Later, on his way south, Fisher came upon the bogus state policeman as Rust was approaching another motorist, apparently to stage another robbery. When Rust saw Fisher approaching, he jumped back into his stolen car and fled.

Shortly afterward the speeding car left U.S. 54, throwing Rust out and killing him.

One Hurt, Two Cited In Mishaps

Two drivers were arrested for reckless operation and one of them was hospitalized with a shoulder injury in separate accidents on area highways Friday.

Injured was Paul White, 23, of Hanoverton, who is listed in "fairly good" condition at Salem City Hospital where X-rays were to be taken today to determine the extent of his shoulder injuries.

White lost control of his car on a curve, causing it to overturn at 7 p.m. on County Road 490, four miles southwest of Salem, the Highway Patrol reported. He was arrested for reckless operation.

Arrested on a similar charge was Arlan K. Robinson, 26, of Cleveland, following a two-car accident at 4:15 p.m. on Route 45, just north of Lisbon.

Merlyn L. Scherffler, 39, of RD 4, Lisbon, was attempting to make a left turn when his car was struck by Robinson who was attempting to pass. Both cars were damaged but no one was injured, the Highway Patrol reported.

Another Round Of Hearings Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee said today an investigation of drug prices already has shown a need for federal legislation.

He made the comment to newsmen as E. G. Upjohn, president of the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., was called for questioning about his firm's pricing of anti-arthritis drugs.

The Upjohn company was listed by the subcommittee as one of the three principal manufacturers of cortisone derivatives used in treating persons afflicted with arthritis.

Officials of the other two drug firms, Schering Corp. and Merck & Co., were heard earlier in the week.

Kefauver said Upjohn's testimony would close out the subcommittee's inquiry into the pricing of arthritis medicines. But another round of hearings, possibly dealing with the prices of antibiotics, is planned for late next month.

While Kefauver said the need for new legislation already is evident, he said it is too early to say what form it should take. Before deciding on that, he said, officials of the Food and Drug Administration and other federal agencies will be consulted.

A small New Jersey drug maker, Seymour N. Blackman, told the subcommittee Friday the prescription drug industry should be treated as a public utility, with its profits and advertising expenditures regulated by the government.

Blackman, executive secretary of Premo Laboratories, Inc., South Hackensack, N.J., contended that the public is being overcharged for drugs to the tune of three-quarters of a billion dollars annually.

He blamed high prices for drugs on what he called the "huge profits and huge advertising expenditures" of the big pharmaceutical firms.

2 Hurt In Collision At State, Jennings

Two Salem men were hospitalized following an accident at 1:20 a.m. today on West State St. near Jennings Ave.

Listed in fair condition at City Hospital is William F. Shoop, 54, of 335 W. Ninth St. He suffered lacerations of the chin, abrasions of the right leg, knee and shin and chest injuries.

Lou Delfavero of 471 Mill St. was released from the hospital after being treated for lacerations of the chin and multiple lacerations of the forehead.

Police said Shoop pulled his car from an alley onto W. State St. into the path of a delivery truck, driven by Richard L. Greene, 34, of 1185 Cleveland St. Delfavero was a passenger in the truck. Greene was not hospitalized.

Shoop was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Swiss Police Smash Black Magic Cult

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — A black magic cult whose disciples were reported ruled by hypnotism and torture behind electrified barbed wire has been broken up by Swiss police raiders.

Paul Baumann, 42, former patient in a mental home, is under arrest as the master mind on charges ranging from interference with personal freedom to embezzlement.

Police Commissioner Ernest Spoerri gave these details at a news conference Friday night:

The raid was made last week on the fenced secluded Friedberg (Mountain of Peace) estate at Linden, a village 12 miles south of Bern.

Inside, raiding officers found 60 men, women and children in various stages of hypnotic trance.

All of the disciples were in a state of fear and subjection to Baumann.

The group, made up of Swiss and Germans, included a 15-year-old girl and Baumann's wife, 25. Several had to be transferred to mental homes for psychiatric treatment.

The estate comprised five houses, a chapel with an altar dedicated to magic spirits, a movie theater and mechanical workshops.

New disciples, found by personal contact, were taken to the estate and told they had been chosen by the spirits to join the community.

They had to swear an oath of allegiance to the sect on an electrified book of magic which sent a heavy charge through their bodies.

Incoming disciples were required to turn over all their cash and belongings to Baumann. The officers found a small fortune in cash and valuables.

Post Office Prepared For Holiday Mail Rush

With the Christmas mail rush expected to run full blast in the 12 days which remain before the holiday, Salem post office crews are prepared for extra duty.

The Post Office will be open Sunday afternoon from 12 noon to 5 p.m. and also Sunday, Dec. 20. In addition, Saturday afternoon hours are being observed.

Approximately 35 extra clerks and carriers are being called in as the mail load increases. This extra help will assist regular carriers and clerks.

Parcel post has been eliminated to a great extent from the Post Office building by the leasing of the former Kornbau garage on E. Pershing St. where the larger parcels are being processed for distribution. This will relieve congestion considerably. Postmaster O. C. Hoover explained.

Local patrons are heeding postal officials' advice to "Mail Early." Already more than 150,000 Christmas cards, letters and packages have been received, with the heaviest rush yet to come.

Last season a total of 750,000 pieces of mail was handled. Helpful Suggestions

Here's some helpful suggestions from the postmaster concerning Christmas mail:

It's always a good idea to place a piece of transparent tape over the address portion of the label on a package to prevent defacing it in transit. Most important of

Asia's Masses Voice Approval Ike's New Doctrine Lauded

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Less than three years ago the Eisenhower Doctrine boomeranged. Today it seems highly likely a new Eisenhower doctrine is emerging — and this one has every chance of being a rousing success.

The message brought by the American President to India plus the impact of his personality may prove in the long run a big help in mending U.S. fortunes in areas where they have been sagging.

The new Eisenhower doctrine is suggested in salient points of his pronouncements in India.

Peace, Genuine Disarmament

These are the U.S. stands for peace and genuine disarmament, determination to help friends against aggressors, need for people-to-people contacts, need for recognition of world law and, most important in this area, the need for a massive "noble" war against hunger.

Since the end of World War II Asians, Africans and Middle Easterners have exhibited a strong bond springing from common history, common woes and common problems.

The leaders of these areas underscored this four years ago in Indonesia where they created what they called the Spirit of Bandung in the city of that name.

Red China In Evidence

At Bandung Red China was much in evidence, bidding for recognition as the acknowledged paramount Asian power. The same year — 1955 — the Communist bloc, led by the Soviet Union, used the Egyptian arms deal to vault into an Arab Middle East bitterly angry with the West.

The Eisenhower Doctrine was proclaimed after the Suez crisis as a warning to the Communists against armed intrusion in the Middle East. But the Arabs — just attacked by Britain, France and Israel — complained "We suffer from cholera and Dr. Eisenhower offers to treat us for measles."

Finally there was a dangerous Middle East blowoff sparked by the little Lebanese civil war in 1958, bringing U.S. troops to Lebanon and British troops to Jordan.

Western Imperialism

Many Arabs and Asians called that Western imperialism.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had all along been taking advantage of such a notion, courting all over Asia, offering solicitude, arms and economic

Nehru Sets Size Of Welcome Crowd At 2½ Millions

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Eisenhower's spectacular visit to India led an Indian diplomat to predict today that it will open "a new chapter in world history."

M. C. Chagla, Indian ambassador to the United States, reported Prime Minister Nehru estimated the massive crowds that welcomed Eisenhower here Wednesday at 2½ million—three times the size of New Delhi's reception for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in 1955.

The 2½ million-figure is the biggest yet in estimates of the throngs which cheered, waved and crushed in upon the procession in which Eisenhower rode from the airport into New Delhi. Police had estimated 1½ million.

Eisenhower seized a chance today for his first real daylight rest since the beginning of his good-will tour of three continents nine days ago.

With only two formal functions on his schedule, he relaxed at the russet-colored mansion of India's President Rajendra Prasad and caught up on White House bus-

Perrault Is New President

Officers Are Chosen By Scholarship Group

George Perrault, vice president of the Rolling Mill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co., was elected president of the Salem Community Scholarship Association at its annual meeting Friday night at the Senior High School.

He succeeds Atty. Guy Mauro, who has been president for the past two years. Mauro, who becomes a trustee ex-officio for six years, was chairman of the approval committee six years previously.

Elected vice president last night was Jack Klein, assistant sales manager of the Deming Co.

R. J. Himmelsbach, sales engineer of the Electric Furnace Co., secretary of the association for the past four years, was named to a six-year term as a trustee.

Holdover trustees are Henry Zimmerman, William Bennett, H. W. Cameron and E. S. Dawson.

36 Students Assisted

Scholarship Association assets were reported by Treasurer L. H. Colley as totaling $18,985, including $14,969 in loans outstanding and $4,015 in cash on hand.

Payments on loans in 1957 and '58 by students aided in their quest for college educations totaled $4,071. Contributions amounted to $3,038 and interest on loans $196. Disbursements showed $7,933 in loans to students.

A total of 36 students have received aid during the 12 years that the Community Scholarship Association has functioned, it was reported. Eleven have repaid in full. Of the 25 still actively participating 13 have graduated, while 12 others are still attending school.

A breakdown of the courses pursued by the 36 students shows: Engineering, 11; education, 12; arts, 2; dental hygiene, 1; occupational therapy, 1; business administration, 1; nursing, 1; law, 1; medicine, 2; dentistry, 2; chemistry, 1, and medical technician, 1.

The recent fund drive of the association has netted $1,500 to date. Ben Barrett, Salem High school teacher, is campaign chairman.

Suspect Picked Out of Line-up By Two Victims

Youth Arrested at Home After Tip; Pals Believed Known

A 20-year-old Warren youth was identified last Friday afternoon by Nick Rini and Miss Berdena Berger, owner and employee, respectively of Barnett's Motel on Rt. 62 as one of the men involved in an armed robbery of the motel near here early Friday morning.

The suspect was picked out of a line-up at the county jail, according to Chief Deputy James Miller of Columbiana County.

Two Others Known

The Warren man was apprehended at his home at 3:30 a.m. by Trumbull County authorities following a tip from a police officer who had stopped and unwittingly released the trio later yesterday morning.

The officer, whom county authorities declined to identify, made a routine stop of the suspects' car at about 3 a.m.

The Warren youth was sleeping in the back seat and the other two were in front, the officer said later. Although he noticed an extra license plate in the car, he released the men whom he knew.

Notified Warren Police
He notified Warren authorities shortly afterward when he heard of the robbery.

Charges are expected to be filed today against the Warren man.

Warrants have been issued for the other two. One is a 30-year-old brother of the man already in custody. The other, 38, was released from a penal institute last month on parole. He had been sentenced for armed robbery.

Bandits Got $650 In Cash

Two armed men forced Mr. Rini, Miss Berger and Mrs. Rini to lie on the floor while they robbed the place of $650 in cash and $165 in checks at about 12:30 Friday morning.

After binding Rini and Miss Berger they fled toward Alliance on Rt. 62 in a car driven by a third man.

Mr. and Mrs. Rini, formerly of Youngstown, bought Barnett's motel and restaurant, three miles west of Salem, from Dale Barnett last September.

TWO FORFEIT BONDS

LISBON — Two motorists cited for speeding forfeited bonds totaling $20 in County Judge James L. McDonald's court Friday when they failed to appear for hearings.

Okey R. Woodrum, 38, of Aldersburg, W. Va., and Ernest Frank Roy, 49, of Cleveland each forfeited a $10 bond. They were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

35-Foot Tree Erected On Square At Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — The largest tree ever to grace the Public Square at Christmas time has been erected by the village electric department.

Donated by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the pine tree stands a good 35 feet and is decorated with more than 400 lights. The tree was taken from the residence of Mrs. Minnie Esenwein, 528 Fairfield Ave.

Columbiana School Board has changed its meeting from Monday to Wednesday, because Supt. D. W. Bailey will be attending a state board of education meeting that day in Columbus.

CHRISTMAS PARTY of the Columbiana Garden Club will be held Tuesday, with a 1 o'clock luncheon scheduled at the Parkview House, Canfield. Members are asked to be prepared to respond to roll call with a thought pertaining to Christmas.

Mrs. Russell Barrow will conduct installation of 1960 officers. The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. Lee Bookwalter, Mrs. Robert Cope and Mrs. J. H. Hunt.

AMERICAN LEGION POST 290 will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the post home on N. Pearl St.

Past Noble Grands Club of Pandora Rebekah Lodge will have its Christmas dinner party at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the lodge hall. The serving committee includes Mrs. Grace Bregar, Mrs. Peggy Burkey, Mrs. Ruth Ferrall, Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond, Mrs. Meta Myers, Mrs. Roa Smith, Mrs. Lu Lu Kyser and Mrs. Mildred McCaughy. Members are to take table service and a 10-cent gift, wrapped for use in a game.

Stan Gurney was elected vice president of the Booster Club at its meeting last week. His name was omitted from the list of new officers.

Thursday: Choir practice at 7 p.m.; Ruth Bible Class Christmas party with a covered dish at 6:30 p.m.; M.Y.F. at 8 p.m.

School Cafeteria Menu

A mission will open Sunday at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. The first week will be devoted to all ladies of the parish. The second week will be devoted to the men.

Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association will hold a covered dinner Thursday at 6 p.m. in the school hall. Those attending wishing to participate in the Christmas exchange are to bring a $1 gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Driscoll and family have moved to their new home in the Fairfield-Waterford District. Mr. Driscoll is superintendent of the Fairfield-New Waterford Schools. Roy Driscoll, a brother, has purchased the Driscoll home in Leetonia.

FOOD DISTRIBUTION SET

LISBON — Surplus food distribution will be held Monday in Wellsville City Hall on Tuesday at the central fire station in East Liverpool, Robert Bycroft, head of the county surplus foods program, reports.

Food was distributed Thursday in Columbiana to 116 families. In Salem Friday, 105 families received food.

CUB PARTY SCHEDULED

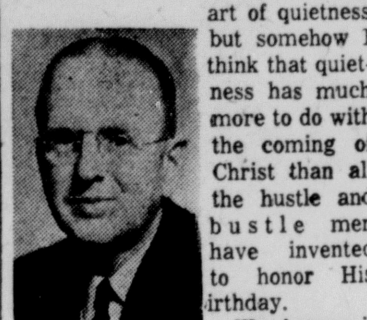

Cub Pack 6 Christmas party and meeting will be held Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. at St. Paul School.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Practice the Art of Quietness

Christmas is almost upon us. The streets of our cities are thronged with the bustle of busy shoppers and our homes are filled with the sense of excitement that inevitably precedes the holiday season. It is probably a strange time of year to write about the

Dr. Peale

We Americans do not excel at the art of quietness. When faced with difficulty we are likely to go into a dither. I received thousands of letters from people who write about personal problems. Often, they nervously insist that these problems must be solved right away—quick! They become more and more excited, nervous, sometimes even panicky.

When I visited Japan I was impressed by how well the Japanese cultivate quietness. In fact, it is one of the things about them that I admire the most. An Englishman who runs an American company in Japan told me that he had learned and benefited greatly from the Japanese technique of becoming quiet before tackling a problem. He practices what is called ryomi.

THE NEAREST you can come to an English translation of this term is "the taste of coolness." The idea is that you can handle a problem if you keep cool—if you get the "taste of coolness." And the method for accomplishing it is unique.

The first thing is to take a bath. In taking a Japanese bath, you first cleanse yourself with a self-administered shower which is accomplished by splashing water over yourself with a wooden pail. Then you submerge in hot water to your chin in a large, deep pool where you leisurely sit and soak yourself. This soon induces relaxation and gives you time to think.

When you come out of the bath you put on a yukata, a cotton kimono, and go into a cool room unencumbered by furniture, as is the Japanese style. You sit cross-legged on a tatami. The tatami, is a lovely, soft straw matting covering the floor. And there you sit, listening to the windbells tinkling in the gentle breeze. You don't talk; you just sit.

You are brought amber tea in a little bowl. You do not gulp it down. You savor it and smell it; you sip it and commune with it. You sit and meditate and enter into deep silence. Gradually, the restlessness goes out of your mind and you begin to think clearly. As you practice ryomi you get the "taste of coolness."

Now you are in a condition to grasp your problem and perceive an answer. Out of quietness comes the power to take a difficulty apart and put it together again properly. We need to develop an American counterpart of ryomi—something that will give us this mental coolness.

WHEN DIFFICULTY STRIKES there is in all of us a tendency to become nervous, apprehensive, disturbed. But no one can handle a difficulty with any degree of skill unless he becomes calm and composed. You have to have all your wits about you. You must be able to think — you cannot think when the surface of the mind is disturbed.

That surface must be quiet so that intuitions from the depths of consciousness, where there is knowledge of how to grapple with the situation, may come to the surface. The first essential, therefore, in any difficulty, is to practice the art of quietness.

The Japanese have their technique and it is an excellent one. But there are many others. In my own church, as an essential part of every service, we have several minutes of creative silence. A deep quietness falls over the great congregation. People often say they come miles just to experience the "immense power" of those quiet moments in God's house. They say they find answers to their problems and peace for their minds. One man even told me he got more rest out of that spiritual, quiet period than "out of a night's sleep."

AMONG THE QUAKERS, meetings consist in large part of the practice of spiritual silence. And more and more, our churches and synagogues are remaining open for long periods for private prayer and meditation.

You can find innumerable opportunities to practice the art of quietness. Try it today. You'll find it most helpful.

No Way to Fly Without Wings

Latest of the voices to chide businessmen for talking about less taxation and more spending in the same breath is the president of International Business Machine Corp., Thomas J. Watson Jr.

He created a hush and a spatter of ultra-meager applause when he told the convention of National Association of Manufacturers last week that businessmen should stop complaining about high taxes unless they also stopped demanding a balanced budget and national security.

"We can't do all the things necessary and still proceed on a 'business-as-usual' basis," he said. "We want to spend everything necessary to strengthen America; we want a balanced budget; we want the same or lower taxes. But these three are incompatible."

We think businessmen know they are incompatible but talk as if they didn't because ranting against taxation is an economic defense mechanism.

It is like the bargaining technique of labor unions, which ask for twice as much as they hope to get so when they get half as much as they asked for they will have what they want. Businessmen ask for taxes half as high as they figure taxes are going to be so when they are twice that high they will be about right.

This devious reasoning is not confined to spokesmen for business, either. It is characteristic of all taxpayers, who defend themselves by complaining loudly and bitterly about the taxes they pay while asking for services and capital expenditures that make tax reduction impossible.

That is the other side of the coin — tax reduction. Spenders never voluntarily reduce taxes by admitting they could get along with less money. Yet when they are forced to get along with less money, they not uncommonly do so without twitching a whisker or offending a constituent.

That's why taxpayers—businessmen and all other kinds—go on the prowl against taxation. If they ever pretended they were reconciled to it, they'd be smothered by it.

Meteorological Philosophers Arise!

This may be the winter that will separate the men from the boys, meteorologically speaking. A flash storm last week on the Pennsylvania Turnpike clinched a proposition that had sobered users of the big toll road on Thanksgiving weekend. It is no place to be in bad weather. Anything that slows traffic precipitates tremendous tie-ups.

There is only one good place to be in bad weather, and this is a decision that calls for meteorological philosophy. The decision should be to stay home, otherwise to stay put, until the weather improves, or traffic conditions improve.

There isn't a city of any size that cannot be jammed into a frenzy in a storm, because people insist on fighting the storm instead of staying where they are until the odds improve. There isn't a main highway that cannot be turned into a shambles by bad weather. On the Garden State Parkway in New Jersey a few nights ago 29 cars were wrecked in a chain of accidents caused by a sudden fog.

There is a time to let discretion be the better part of valor in battling the elements. No one thinks of trying to bluff out a hurricane, or a tornado—or a flood. At the outset of another winter, it is the part of horse sense to decide in advance never to bluff out a snowstorm, either.

Human beings do get stranded and do freeze to death in automobiles. Children die in stalled school buses. People over-exert in hopeless efforts to free stuck cars and to walk to safety. If in doubt, stay home. Or stay where you are, until the highways are clear.

The Furtive Pitchman Now Goeth

A lot of television viewers were happy to read about the latest development in network efforts to cleanse the industry of some of its more deceitful practices.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has announced it will ban commercials that plug products other than those of the regular sponsors. This takes in so many forms of paid-for-under-the-table publicity that it is hard to remember them all at one sitting.

The order is aimed primarily at the practice of charging manufacturers for the privilege of supplying prizes on giveaway shows. After Jan. 1, says CBS, the prizes will have to be paid for out of production budgets just as other stage properties are.

The new rule also includes those tacked-on plugs for the transportation facilities that carried show participants to the city of the program's origination. Getting to where one has to be to do his work is purely a routine matter, and it seems a little ridiculous to make a point of saying how he got there.

Most satisfying of all is the news that the order is expected to eliminate a pet peeve of many viewers—plugs by TV personalities for commercial ventures in which they have an interest. If carried to its proper conclusion, this should stop irrelevant references to new books about to be put on sale, new plays about to be staged, other television shows about to appear, new movies about to be released and new records about to be distributed.

It also should put a halt to references to the creator of the gown the actress happens to be wearing ("happens" is not the right word—she planned to wear it because she gets to keep it if she mentions on the air who made it).

The galling thing about these practices is that they attempt to bestow an aura of objective dignity on self-motivated interests. They are only a shade above the insidious invention of subliminal advertising — the quick-flash gimmick designed to drive commercials into the viewer's subconscious mind so he wouldn't know what hit him.

The new CBS policy should help remove the crass commercialism that has irritated viewers and kept television from reaching the level any medium of communication has a responsibility to strive for.

Once Over

A father-and-son dialogue in respect to the current payola scandals:

"Popper, what's payola?"

"It's nothing your need to know about."

"Then it's okay for me to put a dime in my letter to Santa?"

"A dime in a letter to Santa?"

"I just want to be sure it wouldn't be misunderstood as something wrong, Popper."

"Are you nuts? This would be trying to influence his acts."

"But you said payola was nothing I needed to know about."

"I can see you need to know plenty. Get it out of your noggin' that Santa is a disc jockey plugging 'Jingle Bells' and 'White Christmas'."

"BUT ALL THE KIDS tell me everybody's taking payola."

"It may seem so. But the payola takers are a million miles from the codes of Santa Claus. Get this straight, sonny boy: Santa is not a character behind a song plugger or music publishing house. The only favors he expects from kids are decent behavior and a sock hung up in good faith."

"But just a dime in my letter, Dad. It wouldn't be a bribe, it would only mean I wanted to play ball with him."

"Listen, Junior. You wanna get Kris Kringle dragged before a district attorney? You wanna find an empty stocking because his reindeer got stuck with a Senate Committee? You wanna find the chimney plugged up by the FCC?"

"Gee, no, Popper. But ain't all the money you spend decorating the fireplace payola? How about that expensive outdoor Santa with reindeer on his lawn? Ain't it there to influence Santa?"

"You frighten men. How do kids get such strange notions about payola?"

"Popper, IT'S EASY!"

Radio's Domain of the Air

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Radio is a licensed apparatus accountable to the state, meaning the United States, for its conduct. Thus, radio is not journalism for our press has constitutional freedom and cannot accept license from any authority.

Furthermore, radio cannot claim that its expression is "speech" because here, again, radio, like dogs, being without conscience, submits to the licensing authority of the politicians who manage the state. Radio's advocates insist that it parades of he freedom of speech conferred by the First Amendment. But the speech which the founding fathers had in mind was the speech of individuals.

The trumpet was in use by masters of sailing vessels in tempest but there is no excuse to go wide of the plain fact that the Bill of Rights had in mind speech in its simplest form. The trumpet, itself, had no rights.

A radio station or chain is a soulless machine like the trumpet. We need not inquire whether radio has property rights because that would lure us into jungles remote from the subject of freedom of speech. However, I will entertain the question long enough to dispose of it.

THE AIR, as property, belongs to me, personally. My right to this property precludes any claim of any exploiter of that national public resource. Inasmuch, however, as my own tiny portion of the "air" is useless alone but can be effective when joined with all the other minute portions, I have yielded my interest in the property to the government and deputized the government to manage it in my name. So have all the rest of us.

Altogether, this constitutes the domain of the "air" which the Federal Communications Commission tries to govern under very inadequate laws.

For a long time, under Roosevelt, the FCC was infested with Communist agents. Thus, opponents of the Roosevelt regime were brutally muzzled, harassed and even prosecuted on false charges by the Department of Justice while scoundrels had carte blanche to smear honest men with the courage to fight the regime and its soul mates in and from Moscow. In this formative stage, radio became as it still remains, a menace to freedom, morals and individual privacy, peace and reputation.

IT WAS NO EXAGGERATION to say that Hitler captured Austria by radio. It is true also that Roosevelt captured the reason of the American people and of many editors by the melodious, wheedling, con man's babble which he dribbled into our senses in stultifying fireside chats.

Above that rabble he had accomplices such as Harry Hopkins, Harold Ickes and many characters whom he contemptuously bribed with life-long job on the federal bench at wages which exceeded their expectations in the ordinary practice of the racket of the law. They were tempted not only by immunity from personal assault by their victims but as well by occupational risk of their calling as lawyers before the bar.

Now that the spell is over we can only add that a fool there was, multiplied by 104-million-plus in the returns of four elections. By inexperience, fascination and dull apathy we let a few business firms establish a vested right to "the air." Their indecent character was not really discovered but only confirmed and advertised by the recent revelations of perjury and fraud in the TV quizzes.

McDonald May Trigger U. S. Action On Strikes

Just as James R. Hoffa was unwittingly responsible for the anti-racketeering legislation passed by Congress at its last session, so David McDonald, also unwittingly, may be responsible for the enactment of the most severe legislation in history to prevent America from being damaged again by another big David Lawrence strike.

When a potential candidate for the presidency on the Democratic ticket—Adlai Stevenson—feels obligated to make a public plea for restrictive labor legislation, it is a sign that public opinion is aroused and that both political parties must pay attention to such sentiment.

Normally the Democratic candidates would be expected to pussy-foot on the issue or suppress their feelings on any labor question lest the union leaders be offended. But it is apparent now that the rank and file of the union members and their wives, as well as the general public, are truly alarmed about the bungling way in which the steel negotiations have been handled.

Adlai Stevenson's speech Tuesday is the most significant utterance this year on labor issues by any political figure.

HE SAID: "The steel strike has dramatized the fact that we are at the end of an era. Everybody is agreed that this cannot happen again; that the public interest is the paramount interest, and that irresponsible private power is an intolerable danger to our beleaguered society. . . ."

"And if there are more stoppages, Congress may be expected to reflect the public temper in that production be continued while legislation, which would not only stop strikes but might stop or seriously cripple collective bargaining, too."

Mr. Stevenson reminded his listeners that he had made similar suggestions in 1952 for arbitration, but he now adds this proposal:

"The president should have authority to convene a special public board—a board of public responsibility—well in advance of the strike date in any key industry, perhaps as listed by Congress."

"The board would meet with the parties to the dispute. It would express the public interest to the parties, keep the president advised and perform whatever mediation functions appeared advisable."

"ITS EFFECTIVENESS would be immeasurably enhanced by the parties' knowledge that the board's final responsibility—if its efforts at mediation fail—would recommend to the president what further action should be taken. . . ."

For a long time, under Roosevelt, the FCC was infested with Communist agents. Thus, opponents of the Roosevelt regime were brutally muzzled, harassed and even prosecuted on false charges by the Department of Justice while scoundrels had carte blanche to smear honest men with the courage to fight the regime and its soul mates in and from Moscow. In this formative stage, radio became as it still remains, a menace to freedom, morals and individual privacy, peace and reputation.

Now that the spell is over we can only add that a fool there was, multiplied by 104-million-plus in the returns of four elections. By inexperience, fascination and dull apathy we let a few business firms establish a vested right to "the air." Their indecent character was not really discovered but only confirmed and advertised by the recent revelations of perjury and fraud in the TV quizzes.

"If the parties were unable or unwilling to resolve their dispute, to exercise responsibility consonant with their power—then I would see no reasonable objection to requiring that the dispute be taken out of their hands entirely; that the president be authorized in that case to require in one form or another the dispute was resolved by process of reason rather than by subjecting the economy to grievous injury."

Mr. Stevenson declared that, with the development of industry-wide bargaining, "decisions affecting the entire economy are made by a small group of men sitting at a single table, and the public has no alternative to accepting those decisions."

He added: "I think it (the public) is entitled to be represented at that table in the restricted sense I have suggested."

This and other proposals now being advanced are symptomatic of the deep feeling aroused by the damage done in the steel strike. No matter how the controversy itself is settled, there will be a demand for legislation.

For the belated agreement reached between the parties cannot possibly restore the losses of the union members in wages, of the companies in profits, and of the U.S. Treasury in tax receipts. These losses are too big to be ignored and do not by any means include all the injury done to the American productive machine at a time of stiff competition with the Soviet Union.

THE QUESTION of who was to blame will be argued endlessly. Certainly there has been little disagreement on wages. The real clash is on working rules. The union leaders have arbitrarily refused to discuss changes. They have refused also to submit the issue to arbitration. They have mistakenly resorted to epithets and clichés about alleged plots to "bust the unions."

But the need for changing the working rules is a condition and not just a theory, and the employers have agreed to submit the issue to arbitration with the understanding that he report need not be made until the middle of next year.

The companies want the subject tackled seriously. The union leaders are adamant in refusing to do so, and that's where they have misjudged public opinion.

The speech of Adlai Stevenson, a prominent Democrat and a friend of labor, is a sign of the changing times. Union-labor leaders cannot any longer rely on the politicians in government to take care of their battles with employers.

For this time the public, which is bigger in vote-power than all the unions and corporations is demanding an end to the irresponsible use of economic power by private groups.

Stand Up And Sing

By TRUMAN TWILL

You are reading along and suddenly you stop short, as if you had walked into the edge of a door in the dark.

You back off and stagger around until your head clears. Then you find the light switch, to clear up the mystery of what hit you.

What hit me was an explanation by one of my federal employees about a couple hundred thousand hymn books in the Columbus General Depot of the U.S. Army, Columbus, O. He was telling a reporter for the Cleveland Plain Dealer why it was up to him as property disposal officer to get rid of hymn books that had ceased to have value because they were stamped "Army and Navy" on the covers. He said that when the U.S. Air Force became a separate entity the books were no good any more.

Thousands of them had to be sold for a song, no joke intended, or given away so no joke could be replaced with brand spanking new hymn books marked "Armed Forces."

Will the members of the congregation remain seated to sing "old 98" while I stand up and holler?

After years of holding together the torn-loose leaves of the hymn books in the church my family helped to support, members of the congregation finally agreed that the decision to buy new copies could not be put off any longer.

Not only was the binding broken on the old books, but many of the pages were missing. They had fallen out and been yanked out, in some instances, to dispose of gum. The old hymnals were a mess.

But the faithful could put up with a lot of mess when the alternative was to dig down for where-withal. They were still sweating out pledges they had made to put up the new church. As usual, the extras had added up to more than had been foreseen.

A supply of new hymn books would cost a couple hundred dollars. Because they would be for the benefit of all, they would have to be paid for as a general obligation, unless someone coughed up the money personally. No one at the time was doing any coughing on such a grand scale.

The books would have to be paid for the hard way, with bazaars, suppers, rummage sales, the church dining tent at the county fair and what could be squeezed out of the regular offering after the preacher had been subsisted and the coal bill paid. So we made do with what we had. I learned a lot about church financing at an early age, because my father was a member of the finance committee.

That is the way it was. That is the way it is, except where the great big spend-happy U.S. government rattles its overgrown budget at the proprieties and decencies of life.

This hymnal thing is of a stripe with that shocker a few years ago when someone found out the U.S. Navy had ordered enough silver oyster forks for its officers' messes to last until the earth cooled.

Rebels Led by Students

'Liberation' Army Reported To Have Invaded Paraguay

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Units of a "liberation" army consisting of Paraguayans living abroad were reported today to have invaded Paraguay from Argentine and Brazilian border points.

The Argentine news agency Saporiti said the government of strong man President Alfredo Stroessner immediately mobilized reserves and took other emergency measures to counter the threat. Saporiti said the invasion at dawn was in seven columns.

Clandestine radios in Misiones Province of northern Argentina reported the liberation army was led by Juan Jose Rotella, 26, and Mario Steche, both identified as Paraguayan students.

Despite the reports of revolt in various Paraguayan cities, Argentine airlines said flights to the capital of Asuncion were normal.

A correspondent at Asuncion reported by telephone to Buenos Aires that all appeared quiet in the Paraguayan capital.

The call placed here was put through immediately.

The Asuncion report conflicted with information being broadcast by Buenos Aires radio stations, which said uprisings had occurred in Asuncion, Villarica, and Concepcion.

Information from the northern Argentine cities of Posadas and Corrientes said disturbances had broken out in the three Paraguayan cities at the moment rebel forces started their invasion.

Became President in 1954

Stroessner, a veteran artillery officer, worked his way up to general and took over as president in 1954 after a coup.

A state of siege—modified martial law—has been in force in the country, on and off, for the last 15 years because of economic and other pressures.

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has often voiced his antipathy for Stroessner, who claims the Cuban leader supplied his opposition with arms and funds. Criticism from Buenos Aires newspapers in neighboring Argentina often has been strong, and the threat of 25,000 Paraguayan exiles living just across the border in Argentina has posed a constant threat.

Recently private planes have dropped anti-Stroessner leaflets on Asuncion, the capital city of 113,598 people, and elements of the ruling Colorado party have been arrested there.

Municipal League Elects Officers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new president of the Ohio Municipal League is Warren Parks, village manager of Indian Hill, Cincinnati suburb, since 1943.

Parks succeeded Kenneth J. Sims, mayor of Euclid, in the league presidency for 1960.

Mayor Harold L. Milligan of Struthers, Mahoning County, was elected first vice president.

Grand Apthorp, finance director of East Cleveland, was named second vice president.

The following were appointed to the leagues board of trustees to fill vacancies: Mayor Michael J. Damas of Toledo; Mayor - elect W. Ralston Westlake of Columbus; Councilman E. H. Bernhardt of Rittman, and Mayor Charles L. Babcock of Canton.

Tavern Owner Bound Over to Grand Jury

EAST PALESTINE — Frank Howard, who operates Howard's American Cafe on E. Taggart St., waived a preliminary hearing in County Court Judge Earl Spalding's court Friday afternoon on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury.

He was released on $2,000 bond pending the jury session in January.

Th charge against Howard was one of two filed by City Police-man Ronald Gerlach, who said he was called to the tavern by the owner Tuesday night only to be threatened by the proprietor.

Gerlach also charged Howard with pointing a loaded pistol and he is free on $200 bond on this count to await a hearing in Mayor Paul Merwin's court next week.

Two Boys Held After Theft of Auto Here

Two Wadsworth boys, 14 and 15 years old, will have a hearing either in Columbiana County or Medina County juvenile court Monday for the theft of a 1955 car at 6 p.m. Friday from the Broomall Pontiac Garage on E. Pershing St.

They were apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Ronald Gause at Guilford Lake at approximately 9 p.m. Friday after the car ran out of gas.

SAFETY AWARD RECEIVED. Mayor Harold D. Smith holds the city's traffic safety award, received from C. D. Yount (Center) of the State Highway Department, as Rex Hundertmark, representative of the sponsoring UCT organization looks on.

UCT, City Share Salem Safety Award

Mayor Harold Smith and Safety Director Joseph Fesler received the 1959 Traffic Safety Award at the meeting of Salem Council, United Commercial Travelers of America, Wednesday evening at Steelworkers Hall.

C. D. Yount of Mantua, traffic safety supervisor for the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, presented the plaque to Rex Hundertmark, who represented the U.C.T. Yount commended the local group for having won this award for two consecutive years. Hundertmark then turned the award over to city officials inasmuch as it was made to Salem rather than to a particular group. The U.C.T. group has decided to repeat the vehicle safety Check program here again next May.

Fred Kelly and David Simich gave a report on the UCT committee's work in studying the needs of the local school for Retarded Children. The UCT voted $50 to the committee to be used in furnishing supplies at the school.

Aubrey Cain, junior counselor, presided over the meeting in the absence of senior counselor Howard E. Coy. The next regular meeting will be held Wednesday, Jan. 13.

Herter

Herter said the NATO council will discuss plans for the projected summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev next spring. The views developed in these discussions will be reported to Eisenhower, French President Charles de Gaulle, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer when they meet in the Western summit conference.

Then on Dec. 22, after the Western summit talks end, the NATO foreign ministers will meet again to review the discussions among the four heads of government.

Herter told a news conference Thursday that the United States would probably propose to its European allies that they undertake a study of NATO defense costs in Europe to determine how they could pay a larger share.

Democrats Ward Change Postponement

The Democratic central committee today urged City Council to postpone any further action on the ordinance which would create new ward boundaries in Salem.

The measure, which is scheduled for a final vote in Council Tuesday night, has had two previous readings and needs only a third for adoption.

A Democratic party resolution, signed by Councilman Harold J. Astry, chairman, and Mrs. Mary Bryan, co-chairman, declares that the proposed ward changes "Would benefit the Republican party to the detriment of the Democratic party without due regard to the welfare of the community."

The Democrats charge that the ordinance is being hurriedly submitted and acted upon without consultation with the County Board of Elections and without sufficient study and planning.

"We feel that a complete and thorough analysis of the structure of all precincts and wards in the city should be made in cooperation with the election board before any changes are made," the Democrats' resolution read.

WESLEYAN CLASS members of the First Methodist Church held their annual Christmas party and gift exchange in the music room of the church Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Roland Bush, president, greeted the 30 members and guests in attendance and conducted the business session. The group planned for the care of a needy family during the holidays.

Devotional leader, Mrs. Frank Stoerkel, read scripture and a story entitled, "No Room."

Mrs. Lester Messersmith, program chairman, introduced the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowser, assistant minister and his wife, who presented the program.

Rev. Bowser led group singing with Mrs. Bowser playing piano accompaniment.

Mrs. Bowser also played a number of Christmas selections and then played the auto harp and sang folk songs. She also read Christmas stories, "The Littlest Angel" and "The Shining Star of Bethlehem." Rev. Bowser closed the program with prayer.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered table centered with a Christmas arrangement of pine, colorful ornaments and lighted candles. Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Audrey Scullion poured.

The Jan. 20 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Harmon Reeves of N. Ellsworth Ave.

ALL OFFICERS were re-elected when the Elizabeth Fry Class of the Friends Church held its annual Christmas meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Russell Conkle of the Damascus Road.

The officers are: President, Mrs. Paul Webb; vice president, Miss Pearl Walker; secretary, Mrs. Conkle; assistant secretary, Miss Laura Coulson; and treasurer, Miss Bessie Park.

Mrs. Webb was in charge of the business session, when gifts were voted to worthy projects.

Miss Walker and Mrs. L. L. McCluggage arranged the program on the theme, "What Christ Means to Me." Miss Walker's topic was "Christmas Joy" based on the scripture, "For unto us is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour which is Christ the Lord."

Mrs. McCluggage offered a Christmas medley which included a brief history of Christmas customs. The 18 members gave impromptu talks on the theme.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Ella Hoffman and Martha Belle Crouch, mother and niece of the hostess.

Holiday appointments were used when the hostess served lunch, assisted by Mrs. Vera Wiggers. The favors were small candy canes.

The Feb. 10 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Constance Everett of E. Pershing St.

MEMBERS OF THE Leetonia Democratic Women's Club were guests at the Salem Democratic Women's Club Christmas party Tuesday evening at the Smucker House.

A coverdish supper preceded the business meeting. The invocation was given by Mrs. Clara Bishop.

Games were enjoyed by the 45 in attendance, after which Christmas carols were sung.

Plans for the February card party will be made at the Jan. 26 meeting at the Smucker House.

QUAKER CITY Eagles Auxiliary will hold its annual Christmas dinner Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Eagles Home.

Mrs. James Dickey, Mrs. Edith McElroy and Mrs. Earlin Yeager are in charge.

Members are to bring table service, with side dishes optional. A $1 gift exchange is planned.

SALEM GARDEN CLUB officers will be installed Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Smucker House.

"Gift Wrapping" is the topic of the guest speaker, Mrs. Raymond Sturgeon of Youngstown. Members are to bring wrapped gifts for the Salvation Army.

Mrs. A. J. Winchester is tea committee chairman.

NINE MEMBERS of the Village Gardeners of Beloit attended the Christmas show of the Youngstown Forum Wednesday at the Youngstown Playhouse.

Prior to the meeting, the group enjoyed lunch at Schott's Restaurant. Favors were small Santa Claus mugs, filled with nuts and candy. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Leonard Spencer and Mrs. Frederick Schoeni. A gift exchange was also featured.

Mrs. William Hoskins conducted the brief business meeting when members voted to make door swags for shut-ins of the area.

The Jan. 13 meeting will be with Mrs. Gene Brown.

OFFICERS WERE elected at the regular meeting of the Ellsworth Road Club Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank Hofmaster of Ellsworth Road. Sixteen members and a guest were present.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. Henry Hollabaugh; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lewis Campbell; and sunshine chairman, Mrs. William Webber.

A letter was read from Mrs. L. S. Richards who is spending the winter in Florida.

A gift exchange was held by the members.

Mrs. Kenneth Shallenberg of the Ellsworth Road will be hostess at the Jan. 14 meeting.

Camera Club Holds Christmas Party

Thirty members and guests enjoyed the annual Christmas party of the Salem Camera Club at the Memorial Building Wednesday evening.

The club viewed black and white pictures of winter snow scenes displayed by Daisy Stackhouse, Lawrence Goddard and Mike Binder. Colored slides of previous years' home and church decorations of this vicinity and Nela Park, Cleveland were shown by Lee Schaefer, Mr. Binder and Mr. Goddard.

Gifts for the exchange were laid around a jeweled pink ceramic tree. The luncheon table was decorated with red candles in white birch logs and pine boughs. Ceramic carolers and angels were in front of the decorated Christmas tree which was in the corner of the L-shaped table.

Mrs. Mike Binder, Mrs. Chris Roessler and Mrs. Fred Koeneich served on the food committee. The Roesslers and the Binders, who were in charge of decorations were assisted by Miss Wanda Cullar. Frank Headland distributed the gifts, and Mr. Goddard and Mr. Schaefer took pictures of the group.

The Jan. 13 meeting will be in the Memorial Building.

FILES DAMAGE SUIT CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Harvey Lawrence of Akron, Ohio, has filed a $25,000 damage suit in U. S. District Court against John D. Jones of South Charleston.

The suit, filed Thursday, charged Jones with speeding and reckless driving. Lawrence was in Jones' car last March 7 when it crashed into a guard rail and utility pole near Ripley. The suit asks compensation for injuries Lawrence suffered in the crash.

Mrs. Emma Holmes of Salem, a graduate student at the University of Iowa, was initiated into Pi Lambda Theta, honorary educational society, Wednesday.

Historical Group Elects Alfred Crawford President

The Salem Historical Society held its annual Christmas dinner and election of officers Tuesday evening at the GAR Hall.

Mrs. Charles Snyder, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of candidates with the following elected: President Alfred Crawford; vice president, Miss Elma Auld; secretary, Miss Lucille Baker; treasurer, Mrs. Bernice Burkle; and trustees, Mrs. C. W. Leland, Allen Dickson and Carl Burcaw. Mrs. Lucille Wolfgang and Matt Melitschka recently resigned as trustees.

Prior to the business meeting a dinner was served to the 24 guests. Calvin Critchfield offered the invocation. The tables were laid with Christmas cloths and napkins, with a centerpiece of various colored ornaments on a white milkglass plate, surrounded by lighted Christmas lights. The arrangement was augmented with sprays of holly and pine and flanked by red tapers in green holders. The favors were foil candles mounted on gold and silver paper, made by Mrs. Mildred Hundertmark, Mrs. Leland and Miss Baker.

The kitchen committee consisted of Mrs. Leland, Mrs. Hundertmark, Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Mary Robinson.

The program was highlighted by the Junior High School orchestra, directed by Joseph Horning, and comprised of Rick Shoop, John Stadler, John England, Dick Izenour, cornets; Lynne Miller, French horn; Barbara Osmundsen, Lois Whinnery and Lee Schnell, clarinets.

Their program included the following Christmas music: "Nativity Overture"; "Christmas Parade March"; "Rise Up Shepherd and Follow"; "Villancico"; "March of the Kings"; "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing"; "Joy To The World"; "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Silent Night."

Miss Estelle Mayerhofer read a story, "The Quiet People." The program closed with the singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by Miss Baker.

The next meeting is Jan. 12.

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: After a long journey across the ice sea, Onik has finally reached Santa Land. Much to his dismay, he finds Santa suffering from the Ice King's wrath as much as the Eskimos of his own village.

(Chapter Six)

A TALK WITH SANTA
Onik ran down to the barn. The door was blocked by snow. He knew someone was inside because he could hear voices and every now and then the tap of a reindeer's hoof.

Onik went around to the side of the barn. There he found a ladder leading up to an enormous window high above. He had never seen a ladder before. He climbed it fearfully. When he was near the top he looked down and when he saw Keotuk way below he grew so dizzy he almost fell. Shutting his eyes, he went up the rest of the ladder and climbed in the window.

He found himself at the top of a vast pile of hay. At the bottom of the pile was Santa Claus. He knew it was Santa because he was fat and round and wore a red suit and had silvery whiskers. But he didn't look gay and merry the way Onik had always pictured him. He looked sad and worried.

HE WAS TALKING to a crooked-legged dwarf with large, floppy ears and the two of them were gazing unhappily at eight skinny reindeer.

"It's no use, Tweedleknies," Santa said. "I'm going to let them go. I can't keep them here to starve."

"If only they'd eat meat," grumbled the crooked-legged dwarf. "Or cookies. Or vegetables. Or something."

"They want moss," murmured Santa Claus. "They can't understand why summer has not come. I'll turn them loose. They can go somewhere where there's bound to be summer in August as it should be."

"But what will you do when Christmas comes?" exclaimed Tweedleknies. "With no reindeer how will you make your rounds?" "I don't know," Santa shook his head. "Perhaps there won't be Christmas any more. Who knows? Anyway, I'm turning them loose."

"We'll never get the door open," protested Tweedleknies. "It's blocked by snow."

"They can fly out the window," replied Santa. "That is if they still have the strength to fly."

"Come now," he said gently, patting the reindeer. "Fly away and find some summer feeding ground."

THE REINDEER looked around uncertainly and then, tapping their hooves three times on the floor, they flew gracefully upwards straight to the window where Onik sat.

"Wait, wait!" cried Onik rising to his feet. "Don't let them go!"

But it was too late. The reindeer brushed past him, one by one, into the sky.

Then Santa called out, "Who on earth are you?"

Onik slid to the bottom of the pile of hay. He landed with a plop at Santa's feet. "I'm Onik the Eskimo boy," he said. "And I came to you because my people are being destroyed by the Ice King's anger."

"Ah," said Santa, "so are we, my boy. And it is the same everywhere. Only yesterday I had a letter from a child who said that though it was August she had not yet had a chance to use the bathing suit I brought her last Christmas. Another child wrote that he was still using the ice skates I brought to him. So you see, the whole world is cold."

"But you must stop the Ice King!" cried Onik.

"I?" said Santa.

"Of course! You are the most powerful, the bravest, the wisest one on earth. You are the only one who can stop the Ice King."

Santa pulled his pipe from his pocket and slowly filled it. "Tell me," he said, "How shall I stop the Ice King?"

"Why," said Onik simply, "by going to him and telling him to stop."

Now the crooked-legged Tweedleknies growled, "What nonsense! If Santa went to see the Ice King who knows what might happen to him!"

"I'll go, too," protested Onik. "I—I could help!"

"You!" snorted Tweedleknies.

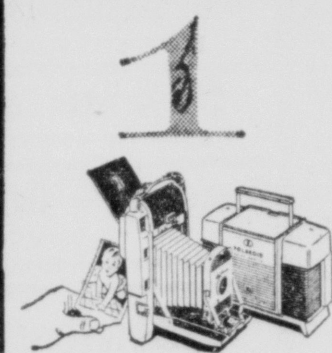

"Hush, Tweedleknies," said Santa. Then he looked for a long time into Onik's eyes. At last he said, "Very good, son. We will go."

THE BEST CHRISTMAS OF ALL

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Robertson Hits For 48 As Cincinnati Rips St. Joseph's

Bearcats Roll By 123-79 Count

Bluffton, Wooster Win; Malone Falls

By The Associated Press
Oscar Robertson hit for 48 points Friday night as Cincinnati overwhelmed St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 123-79.

Robertson's individual point tally for the night, highest of any Ohio players thus far this season, wasn't his only contribution, he grabbed 17 rebounds as the Bearcats made it 4-0 for the season.

A torrid 24-9 lead was racked up by the victors in the first seven minutes.

Cincinnati sank 47 of 86 field goals and the Hawk's hit with 32 of 82 tries.

At halftime the Bearcats lead 57-33 with Robertson accounting for 25 of the total.

The defeat was the Hawks' first in four starts.

In the Ohio Conference action Friday, Kenyon trimmed Hiram 74-59 and Denison edged Marietta 75-71.

The lead in the Denison-Marietta game changed hands 19 times and tied 13 times. Shooting percentages were low for both teams as the Big Red hit for 30 per cent and the Pioneers for 31.

Top man of the evening was Marietta's Sam Hirt with 23 points. Jerry Weddell hit for 21 for the victors.

In other Ohio games Friday, Bluffton dropped in 22 of 30 free throws to down Albion (Mich.) 78-62. Both teams scored an equal number of field goals.

Wooster handed Western Reserve its fourth straight cage loss, 70-69; Clarion (Pa.) nipped Malone of Canton 79-64, Allegheny dumped Penn 62-45, and McKendree of Illinois downed Central State 80-76.

Sports Glances

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Adding to the bitterness of the argument on whether or not Superintendent of Schools Paul Smith is de-emphasizing sports here is the lack of available facts to support or disprove the contention.

The fact that there is considerable antagonism between the new superintendent and the high school coaches is no secret.

What is not known, however, is whether this antagonism has resulted from an attempt by Supt. Smith to play down athletics or from resentment by the coaches at the stated intent of the superintendent to control those who run the program.

IT SEEMS to us that all this discussion about de-emphasis and playing to win has developed as a side issue from a personal squabble between the superintendent and Basketball Coach John Cabas.

The disagreement appears to concern the proper emphasis that should be placed on coaches and has little to do with how the athletic program should be handled.

Smith contends that the teacher and the coach are equally important in the overall school program. Cabas, in a speech before the Rotary Club this week, stated, "It would seem natural that a coach's contribution to the over-all educational program far surpasses that of an ordinary classroom teacher."

If this disagreement is what triggered the de-emphasis question it is hardly worth dignifying with comment.

THE CLOSEST thing to a testing ground for the de-emphasis charges came when changes were made in the Mickey McGuire League basketball program this year. The change under strongest attack is one which limits a boy to a maximum of two quarters of play in one game.

Critics say that if the purpose was to allow more boys to participate as stated, why wasn't the program expanded instead of designed to cut the amount of participation as stated, why wasn't the "If the change doesn't prove satisfactory," Smith stated, "there is nothing to say we can't try something else. The principals thought this change would give more boys an opportunity to participate in the program," he added.

MOST OF the other de-emphasis charges have arisen from remarks Smith has made or is alleged to have made concerning the value and necessity of such things as scouting opposing teams, pep rallies, and homecomings and last period classes for coaches.

Still, the fact that more than one coach here feels that Supt. Smith is undermining the athletic program, we believe, is worthy of mention.

Supt. Smith's stated philosophy of the desirability of a balanced program of academics and sports is a good one. We're certain that the superintendent will not object if sports fans observe and comment upon the methods he uses in arriving at and maintaining this balance.

While Carter was winning the men's title and a check for $5,000, Olga Gloor, a spunky 39-year-old housewife and bowling instructor from Chicago, was capturing the women's crown before a packed Chicago Coliseum and a national television audience.

Carter's performance, which was all the more spectacular since he was in 71st place last Saturday among the 128 men.

Going into the final four games of the position round, Don needed one victory and when Billy Golembiewski of Detroit won the first two games, the pressure was on the stoop-shouldered veteran.

Don actually won the title in the third game when he doubled in the tenth frame to win 186-180 and end Golembiewski's hopes for the title. Carter added a little icing to the cake in the final game, winning 205-204.

This left Carter with a Petersen point total of 320.32 while Golembiewski had 316.27. In third was Andy Rogoznica of Chicago with 313.05. Second place was worth $2,500 and third $1,250.

It was one of the most dramatic moments in the women's division, Mrs. Gloor came through in the final position round match to win her first major individual title.

Olga beat Donna Zimmermann of Akron in the two final games to take the title, worth $2,500. Mrs. Gloor finished with 149.02 Petersen points while Miss Zimmermann had 145.41 for second and $1,250. Third place went to Janet Harman, Whittier, Calif., who had 145.34 for $625.

Individual scoring honors for the tournament went to balding, 41-year-old Lou Frantz of Louisville, Ky., who had a perfect 300 game in the qualifying round last Saturday and to Miss Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia who matched Lou's feat with a 300 in the finals on Friday.

52-38 Victory Third In Row for Rockets

The Goshen Gophers lost their first basketball outing of the season Friday when they were walloped by an invading Lowellville squad 52-38.

The Rockets were led by Phil Genova, who tallied 17 points, and Ken Camp, who added 15.

Lynn Barnett and Chuck Brown each scored 10 markers for the losers.

Lowellville took a 13-9 lead in the first period, but the Gophers slashed the margin to one point, 20-19, in the second stanza.

The Rockets surged again in the third period to hold a 36-31 bulge going into the final frame.

The Gopher Reserves won the preliminary contest 48-24. The Goshen Jayvees were paced by Dick Wallace.

The Gophers will be at home tonight against the Lisbon Blue Devils.

The Rockets, who have won all three of their season games, will be hosts tonight to Mohawk.

Browns Face Hard Contest On Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — The second-place Philadelphia Eagles will be shooting for their best season in 10 years Sunday when they meet the Cleveland Browns in Philadelphia.

The Eagles with a 7-4 record haven't won more than seven games in any season since 1949, the year they won the National Football League title and finished with an 11-1 record.

Coach Buck Shaw, who Friday received a new one-year contract, calls his club "a championship team in the making."

It all adds up to a tough afternoon for the Browns, who will be seeking to share runnerup honors in the Eastern Conference with the Eagles.

The Browns, the only team in the conference which hasn't lost to Philadelphia this season, will be in better physical shape than they were for last week's 48-7 loss to the New York Giants.

Flanking back Ray Renfro missed the game with a pulled muscle. He's expected to start Sunday.

Fullback Jimmy Brown, the league's leading ground gainer, suffered a mild concussion and missed much of the action, but he also will be ready for Philadelphia.

The two starting offensive tackles, Lou Groza and Mike McCormack, have shown improvement from injuries, as has guard Jim Ray Smith.

McPhail Officially Orioles' President

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lee MacPhail is officially the new president of the Baltimore Orioles, but Jim Keelty, the outgoing chief, says he'll keep a hand in the team's operation.

MacPhail, tapped for the job by Keelty when the latter announced his resignation, was formally promoted from general manager to president at Friday's board meeting.

Ending speculation that he might also sell his stock in the club, Keelty agreed to remain on the board.

MacPhail, in stepping up to the top Orioles post, matched an accomplishment of his colorful father, Larry MacPhail, who headed the New York Yankees until his 1947 retirement from baseball.

Olinhausen Nets 22 Markers

Western Reserve Stomped 86-55 by Fairfield-Waterford

Four players hit in the double figures for the Fairfield-Waterford Rebels to bring down their second victory in a row. The Rebels posted an 86-55 win over Western Reserve.

Jim Olinhausen led the winners with 22 markers. Kannal hit for 18; Nessenger, 17; and Chamberlain, 11. High point-getters for Western Reserve were Ronnie Truitt, 13; and Engle and Schaffer, 10 and 11, respectively.

Western Reserve turned in a fine first quarter as they pushed through 17 points to nine for the visitors. At the end of the first half, however, it was an altogether different story as Coach Newton's five held a commanding lead 37-27.

At the start of the three-quarter mark, the Rebels continued their offensive punch, rimming 20 points to the Blue Devils' 18 to make the score 57-45.

Clippers Erupt After Initial Period

Columbiana Rolls Over Springfield High 58-44

Columbiana won its second cage victory in succession Friday night when it erupted after scoring only one point in the first period to trounce visiting Springfield Local 58-44.

The Clippers were behind six points, 7-1, at the end of the first stanza, but tallied 22 markers in the second period to forge ahead 23-20 by the intermission.

Columbiana kept up its torrid scoring pace in the third frame to enter the final period ahead by 14 points, 40-26.

Rich Harrold was the big gun for the Clippers, sinking six field goals and five fouls for 21 points. Next highest scorer for Columbiana was Don Culp with 15 points.

Roger Myers paced the visitors with 14 points, followed by Jerry Randall who tallied 12.

Altogether eight players scored for Springfield and six for the Clippers.

The loss is Springfield's second of the season against no wins. Columbiana is undefeated so far this year.

The Clippers' next game will be against Salem here next Friday night.

Springfield will be at Western Reserve tonight.

Yanks Obtain Maris; Trade Larsen, Bauer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees and the Kansas City Athletics, old hands at swapping players, have completed their 15th transaction with outfielder Roger Maris the key player in the seven-man deal.

Thwarted in an attempt to trade with other clubs in both leagues, the Yankees Friday obtained Maris, on whom they have had designs to plug an outfield hole since they wound up third in the American League last season.

With the 25-year old, long-ball hitting outfielder they also got veteran shortstop Joe DeMaestri and first baseman Kent Hadley. A Yankee spokesman said DeMaestri probably will be used as trade bait in an effort to strengthen the pitching staff.

To Kansas City, the Yankees sent Norm Siebern, a hard-hitting but weak fielding outfielder; pitcher Don Larsen, plagued with a sore arm almost ever since writing his name in the record books with a perfect World Series game in 1956 and Hank Bauer, 37-year-old outfielder and Marv Throneberry, utility first baseman-outfielder.

The deal came only four days from the end of the interleague deadline and five days after the pennant-winning Chicago White Sox and the runnerup Cleveland Indians apparently strengthened themselves in another seven-player swap.

"We have tried unsuccessfully to trade with other clubs in both leagues," said Yankee General Manager George Weiss. "The Yanks and Kansas City have faith in each other."

A total of 59 players have shuttled back and forth between New York and Kansas City since the Athletics moved from Philadelphia during the winter of 1954. Several have made the trip both ways.

KSU Football Team Names Co-Captains

Robert Hall of Kent and Dick Barber of Cleveland have been named co-captains of the 1960 Kent State University football team.

The two were elected by other squad members. Hall, a 6-2, 215-lb. tackle, has been named to the second team All-Mid-American Conference unit for the past two seasons. He played high school ball at Kent State High.

Barber is a 5-11, 220 lb. guard and a graduate of E. Cleveland Shaw. Both will be seniors next fall.

Columbiana Bantam League to Meet

COLUMBIANA — Tracy Powell, vice president of the Columbiana Bantam League, has called a meeting of managers, coaches, parents and others interested for 8 p.m. Monday in Room 15 of the high school building to discuss a variety of matters and to elect officers for 1960.

He especially urges that fathers with sons playing in the junior baseball loop attend the session. In addition to the election, items of business will include a discussion of affiliation with the Hot Stove League, discussion on draft of players for next season, a review of the managerial situation, and study of a proposal to name a trustee to oversee all league expenses.

Kansas, Kansas State Lose Contests

Pitt Pulls Shocker By Defeating St. Jo'n's

By The Associated Press
The Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh and the Treasure State classic at Bozeman, Mont., Friday night opened a big list of major college basketball tournaments that will run through the Christmas holidays. Next Friday, four more big tournaments will get under way.

But while Pittsburgh and Duquesne were setting up a home-town finale for the Steel Bowl for the second straight year, and Oklahoma City and Montana State gained the finals of the Bozeman affair, two Atlantic Coast Conference teams were making it tough for a pair of Big Eight Conference teams at Raleigh, N.C.

Slightly favored Kansas State, defending Big Eight champions, was handed a 66-59 defeat by North Carolina State. Kansas, a winner over Northwestern and Texas Tech, was beaten 60-49 by North Carolina.

Pitt, soundly trounced by Ohio State and Purdue recently, pulled a shocker by downing St. John's of Brooklyn—the 1959 National Invitational champions—74-73. William and Mary, undefeated in four straight, was beaten by Duquesne 53-52.

Oklahoma City ran up to 40-26 halftime lead over San Francisco and sailed into the finals with a 71-54 victory. Larry Chanay led Montana State to a 81-75 victory over Oregon with 32 points.

Pitt, which beat Duquesne in the Steel Bowl final last year, trilled St. John's 43-54 in the second half. Then Pitt rallied for 15 straight points for a 58-34 lead and the ball game. Duquesne won the third straight, after trailing 22-26 at halftime.

Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati to a 13-79 victory over St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, scoring 48 points. In winning their fourth straight, the Bearcats went over 100 points for the third time this season.

Cunningham Paces E. Liverpool to Win

Junior Kenny Cunningham paced East Liverpool to a 59-52 cage victory over invading Alliance Friday night.

The contest, tight all the way, was won from the foul line by the Potters who were outscored from the field.

The winners led at the end of each quarter, 18-14, 30-28 and 40-36.

Cunningham, the Potters' top scorer last year, sank 10 goals and seven fouls for 27 points. Five other players tallied for East Liverpool.

Byrd scored 16 markers to pace Alliance. Duncan added 15 for the Aviators.

The East Liverpool Reserves lost the preliminary contest 32-20.

Alliance—52	Davidson 2-0-4; Longmire 4-2-10; Duncan 7-1-15; Wallace 1-0-2; Byrd 7-2-16; Siegenthaler 2-1-5.

A high-scoring Wellsville aggregation evened its cage season record at 1-1 Friday night when it stomped Lisbon 89-64 on the latter's court.

The Blue Devils were ahead by one point, 17-16, at the end of the first period.

Cage Clinic Set for Boys Aged 9-16

A two-day basketball clinic for boys aged 9-16 will be conducted at the senior high school gym on Dec. 21 and 22.

Salem High Coaches John Cabas and Karl Zellers and their basketball squad will handle the instruction. John Dawson, assistant manager of the Memorial Building, will direct the clinic. Assistant directors are Rusty Tomlinson and Robert Miller.

Dawson says the purpose of the clinic is to present, instruct and demonstrate the fundamentals of basketball. There will be no admission charge but boys are asked to bring gym shoes.

Others who will assist in the supervision of the program include Mickey McGuire League coaches, adult volunteers and student leaders from the high school who in help in gym classes.

The clinic is being sponsored by the Memorial Building and Park Commission in cooperation with the public schools. The clinic will be in session from 9:30 to 11:45 a.m. on each of the two days.

SHAW PICKS AIDES

Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers, who will handle the West, named Mark Duncan as his aide and will pick another in a few days.

Leetonia Shaded In Overtime

Contest Won 53-50 By North Lima

The Leetonia Bears were shaded 53-50 by North Lima Friday night in an overtime basketball contest played on the North Lima court.

North Lima led at the end of the first period 10-8, but the Bears forged to the front 31-25 by the intermission.

Leetonia was still in front, 41-35, at the three-quarter mark, but the Zippers rallied in the final stanza of regulation play to tie the count 46-all and send the game into overtime.

Day was high scorer for the winners with 12 points. Six other players scored for the Zippers.

Lee Radler sank seven goals and five fouls for 19 points to pace the Bears. Jim Franko added 10 markers to Leetonia's total.

Four other players entered the scoring column for Leetonia.

North Lima's Reserve squad also eked out a win, nipping the Bear Jayvees 38-37.

The contest was the first of the season for Leetonia.

The Zippers earned their initial win against two losses.

East Palestine Jars Boardman

Hartshorn Paces Bulldogs to 54-46 Win

East Palestine of the Tri-County League came from behind to down the Boardman Spartans 54-46 Friday night in a cage contest on the winners' floor.

Boardman led at the end of the initial period by nine points, 16 to 7, but the Bulldogs rallied to forge ahead 24 to 22 in the second frame.

Opening the third stanza of play, the Columbiana County five increased their lead to 37-29.

Jim Hartshorn and Chuck Robinson led the winners' attack with 18 and 11 points, respectively.

High scoring honors of the evening went to Don Hunsinger of Boardman who tallied seven field goals and six fouls for 20 markers.

It was the Bulldogs' second win in two starts.

Palestine travels to Youngstown Tuesday evening to meet the Rayen Tigers.

California Squad Invades Kent State

Both teams will be trying to break a two-game losing streak tonight when the Kent State University basketball team takes on California State Poly's cagers at Memorial Gym.

For Kent's Golden Flashes, the game will be their last chance to salvage a win from a three-game invasion of West Coast teams.

The Flashes opened their season with an 87-81 win over Youngstown, then lost to Arizona State 79-70 and Pepperdine 84-80.

Cal Poly's Mustangs won their first two games, 88-68 over Westminster and 68-42 over California Western, then dropped two games in the Redlands Tournament, falling 88-74 to the University of Redlands and 69-61 to Chapman College.

Last year Kent edged Cal Poly 80-76 in California.

Charlie Boykin, Kent's 6-6 center, leads the Flashes with a 28 point average. Vic Di Giovanni of New York City leads the Mustangs with a 15-point average.

At stake in the dangerous 218.4-mile battle is the world's road racing championship. In many countries, this is the most wanted of all sports titles and the winner is a star of awesome proportions.

In the pole position was Stirling Moss of England, runner-up to the champion.

His desire to reach the top was shown in the time trials, when he covered the 5.2-mile Sebring course in three minutes flat at an average of 104 miles an hour.

With Moss in the front row when the cars broke from a standing start with engines running were Jack Brabham of Australia and Tony Brooks of England.

This is the daredevil trio still in the running for the championship in this eighth and last grand prix race of 1959.

Brabham won the middle position in the front row of starters by turning a practice lap in 3:03. Brooks got the front outside position with a clocking of 3:05.9.

WHY NOT TRADE?

If your home is too small or too large call us for an ideal setup for a trade. Also if your mortgage payments are becoming a burden, we may be able to trade your equity into a less expensive property with lower payments.

Questions and Answers

Q — Why is the southern tip of Illinois often referred to as "Egypt"?

A — Some say this name was given by early settlers who came down from the north to get grain, as travelers did in the Bible story of Joseph. Another explanation is the presence of such Egyptian names for towns as Cairo and Thebes.
